

Dr. Catrin Heite

Münster University

Institute of Educational Science

Department II – Social Pedagogy

catrin.heite@uni-muenster.de

Professionalism in the Post-Welfare State

Under the condition of political transformations social work faces new challenges especially with regard to Professionalism. It is a controversial issue, how professionalism should be theorized, defined, transformed, fulfilled, practiced. In this context the paper analyses current impacts of political transformations on social works professionalism, how new cultures of welfare may create new cultures of professionalism.